

Thanks to JCP Peer Reviewers

As we conclude another year at The Journal of Clinical Psychiatry, we thank the very generous peer reviewers who contributed their efforts to the Journal. Peer review is essential to develop and disseminate scientifically and clinically meaningful information. As part of the process, we ask dedicated individuals to donate their time and expertise anonymously. We especially thank and acknowledge those who reviewed the largest volume of manuscripts over the past year in this year's Circle of Honor.
